

MIDWEEK MISSIVE 08/29/18

Well, the temperature doesn't feel like fall, but if the kids are heading back to school, it can't be too far off! I hope you are keeping cool today....hang on, relief is on the way!

Since fall is just around the corner, it's time to welcome back vacationers and move full speed ahead into our next season. I have two things related to that to share with you today.

First, Marcia Petitbon has agreed to be the chair of the Fall Fair! She has some great ideas and brings wonderful organizational skills to the task. After several conversations with folks, and after a look at the different calendars of events, the plan is to have the fair on Saturday October 27th. That is 8 weeks away, and Marcia is ready to hit the ground running! Look for more information, a phone call or email about what comes next!

Second, would you or anyone in your household (including teens and pre-teens) be interested in serving as a worship leader in the future? I would like to bring different folks in to lead the congregation in the Call to Worship and Invocation, as well as read the scripture. If you, or someone you know, is interested, please let me know by return email.

There will be more announcements ago gatherings and plans for the future soon, so keep your eyes and ears open!

So, keep the fans and the a/c going and pray for cooler temperatures, soon.

Be peaceful,
Brad
